38 i turbanti esposti nel Museu Carmen Miranda di Rio de Janeiro, inclusi i celebri "tutti-frutti"!

with colorful accents straight out of the "carnival do Brasil" that favored a sophisticated tropical element as opposed to hues more fit for a masquerade party. SS 17. "Miranda mania" is now getting in line with the frenetic urban rhythms of the new millennium. The wardrobe is "tropical juice to go." Cheeky accessories get the trend off to a fun start: jewels are inspired by nature; delectable pumps boast decisive hues and are alternated with towering platforms with woven heels. Bags that pay homage to vintage pieces are also chock full of glamour. Like in That Night in Rio!
